JOHN EDWARD JACKSON,

Plaintiff,

v.

CLARK COUNTY, et al.,

Defendants.

Case No. 2:21-cv-02023-RFB-VCF

ORDER

Plaintiff John Edward Jackson brings this civil-rights action under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 to redress constitutional violations that he claims he suffered while incarcerated at Clark County Detention Center. (ECF No. 1-1). On April 5, 2022, this Court ordered Jackson to file a non-prisoner application to proceed in forma pauperis or pay the full $402 filing fee on or before May 5, 2022. (ECF No. 11). The Court warned Jackson that the action could be dismissed if he failed to file a non-prisoner application to proceed in forma pauperis or pay the full $402 filing fee for a civil action by that deadline. (Id.) That deadline expired and Jackson did not file a non-prisoner application to proceed in forma pauperis, pay the full $402 filing fee, or otherwise respond.

I. DISCUSSION

District courts have the inherent power to control their dockets and “[i]n the exercise of that power, they may impose sanctions including, where appropriate . . . dismissal” of a case. Thompson v. Hous. Auth. of City of Los Angeles, 782 F.2d 829, 831 (9th Cir. 1986). A court may dismiss an action based on a party’s failure to obey a court order or comply with local rules. See Carey v. King, 856 F.2d 1439, 1440-41 (9th Cir. 1988) (affirming dismissal for failure to comply with local rule requiring pro se plaintiffs to keep court apprised of address); Malone v. U.S. Postal Service, 833 F.2d 128, 130 (9th

1 Cir. 1987) (dismissal for failure to comply with court order). In determining whether to 2 dismiss an action on one of these grounds, the Court must consider: (1) the public's 3 interest in expeditious resolution of litigation; (2) the Court's need to manage its docket; 4 (3) the risk of prejudice to the defendants; (4) the public policy favoring disposition of 5 cases on their merits; and (5) the availability of less drastic alternatives. See In re
6 Phenylpropanolamine Prod. Liab. Litig., 460 F.3d 1217, 1226 (9th Cir. 2006) (quoting 7 Malone v. U.S. Postal Serv., 833 F.2d 128, 130 (9th Cir. 1987)).

8 The first two factors, the public's interest in expeditiously resolving this litigation
9 and the Court's interest in managing its docket, weigh in favor of dismissal of Jackson's 10 claims. The third factor, risk of prejudice to defendants, also weighs in favor of dismissal 11 because a presumption of injury arises from the occurrence of unreasonable delay in filing
12 a pleading ordered by the court or prosecuting an action. See Anderson v. Air West, 542 13 F.2d 522, 524 (9th Cir. 1976). The fourth factor—the public policy favoring disposition of 14 cases on their merits—is greatly outweighed by the factors favoring dismissal.

15 The fifth factor requires the Court to consider whether less drastic alternatives can 16 be used to correct the party's failure that brought about the Court's need to consider 17 dismissal. See Yourish v. Cal. Amplifier, 191 F.3d 983, 992 (9th Cir. 1999) (explaining 18 that considering less drastic alternatives before the party has disobeyed a court order
19 does not satisfy this factor); accord Pagtalunan v. Galaza, 291 F.3d 639, 643 & n.4 (9th 20 Cir. 2002) (explaining that “the persuasive force of” earlier Ninth Circuit cases that 21 “implicitly accepted pursuit of last drastic alternatives prior to disobedience of the court's 22 order as satisfying this element[.]” i.e., like the “initial granting of leave to amend coupled 23 with the warning of dismissal for failure to comply[.]” have been “eroded” by Yourish).
24 Courts “need not exhaust every sanction short of dismissal before finally dismissing a 25 case, but must explore possible and meaningful alternatives.” Henderson v. Duncan, 779 26 F.2d 1421, 1424 (9th Cir. 1986). Because this action cannot realistically proceed until and 27 unless Jackson either files a non-prisoner application to proceed in forma pauperis or 28 pays the $402 filing fee for a civil action, the only alternative is to enter a second order

1 setting another deadline. But the reality of repeating an ignored order is that it often only 2 delays the inevitable and squanders the Court's finite resources. The circumstances here
3 do not indicate that this case will be an exception: there is no hint that Jackson needs
4 additional time or evidence that he did not receive the Court's order. Setting another
5 deadline is not a meaningful alternative given these circumstances. So the fifth factor 6 favors dismissal.

7 II. CONCLUSION

8 Having thoroughly considered these dismissal factors, the Court finds that they 9 weigh in favor of dismissal. It is therefore ordered that this action is dismissed without 10 prejudice based on Jackson's failure to file a non-prisoner application to proceed in forma
11 pauperis or pay the full $402 filing fee in compliance with this Court's April 5, 2022 order.
12 The Clerk of Court is directed to enter judgment accordingly and close this case. No other 13 documents may be filed in this now-closed case. If Jackson wishes to pursue his claims, 14 he must file a complaint in a new case.

15 It is further ordered that Jackson's motions for various relief (ECF Nos. 3, 4, 6, 7) 16 are denied as moot.
